

She's Not You

Elvis Presley

Her hair is soft and her eyes are also blue
She's all the things a girl should be but she's not you
She knows just how to make me laugh when I feel blue She's everything a man could want but she's not you And when we're dancing it almost feels the same

I've got to stop myself from whispering your name
She even kisses me like you used to do
And it's just breaking my heart 'cause she's not you
And it's just breaking my heart 'cause she's not you
And when we're dancing it almost feels the same
I've got to stop myself from whispering your name
She even kisses me like you used to do
And it's just breaking my heart 'cause she's not you
And it's just breaking my heart 'cause she's not you
