Longest Night

Howie Day

Is it dark where you are? Can you count the stars where you are? Do you feel like you are A thousand miles from home? Are you lost where you are? Can you find your way when you're so far? Do you fear where you are? A thousand nights aloneSo here we are set into motion We'll steal a car and crash in the ocean You and I are caught in a fading light On the longest night It's enough just to find love It's the only thing to be sure of So hard to let go of A thousand times or moreI was close to a fault line Heaven knows you showed up in time Was it real? Now I feel like I'm never coming downSo here we are set into motion Steal a car, crash in the ocean You and I caught in a fading light On the longest nightI recall when we were together Even now it seems like forever So alive caught in a fading light On the longest night Can we go too far to find what is waiting here? A little fall from grace on the longest night Did we go too far to find what is waiting here? We'll take a little time to open up againIs it dark where you are? Can you count the stars where you are?

Lyrics provided by http://counterlikes.com/