Blow me away Was that love you declared Only a word Love can mean anything Understand the world we're living inOceans apart What's that view from your wave Beautiful craft Weather and change Understand the world we're living in Love can mean anything God made love to me Soothed away my gravity Made me a pair of angel's wings Clear vision and some magic thingsGod is love to me Thank you for those things Understand the world we're living in Love can mean anythingDarling I'm open Unguarded UnbrokenNow we've done our time We can drift away Like the heavy cloud With the weight of rain Understand the world we're living in Love can mean anythingUnderstand the world we're living in Love can change anything
