

Shadows

Sabrina Carpenter

We all got nightmares in our dreams
We look for someone to believe in us
And show us the way
And make it okay
The world can be dangerous There's something so rare in your veins
Not a single thing I would change
And oh, if you only knew how I see you
Would you come alive again, live again
I, I need you to understand I don't mind your shadows
'Cause they disappear in the light
I don't mind your shadows
'Cause they look a lot like mine
And listen to me
It's okay to be afraid
Just walk like you're never alone
I don't mind your shadows
Your shadows, baby I don't Pictures in our head
Of what we're supposed to be
Measuring ourselves, but where is the love?
Where is the love?
The world got us wondering, wondering I, I need you to understand
That I don't mind your shadows
'Cause they disappear in the light
And I don't mind your shadows
'Cause they look a lot like mine
And listen to me
It's okay to be afraid
Just walk like you're never alone
And I don't mind your shadows
Your shadows, baby I don't And all these voices in our head
Well, they keep screaming louder and louder
They won't pull us under Baby, I don't mind your shadows
'Cause they disappear in the light
And I don't mind your shadows
'Cause they look a lot like mine
And listen to me
It's okay to be afraid
Just walk like you're never alone
And I don't mind your shadows
Your shadows, baby I don't
