

Heart Door (With Dolly Parton)

Paula Cole

There is a diamond inside of me
That lights up the sky of my soul
Where fell the diamond when I believed
That all of the hurt was my fault I'm opening the heart door
Letting in the light
Opening the heart door
And giving life to me that died You ended up so with that person
Who comes home too late from the bar
I ended up so when my courage could finally walk on its own
When I finally opened the door I'm opening the heart door
Letting in the light
Opening the heart door
And giving life to me that died
You ended up so with that person
Who comes home too late from the bar
I ended up so when my courage could finally walk on its own
When I finally opened the heart door
