

Long Distance Runner

Matt Nathanson

Grew up believing
Love was a grudge
And home was a place Where you lived with your guard up
People keep saying
Memories fade
Mine are all drunk
And they just keep calling Well I hear the gun go off
Crowd go wild
You're still here
Mile after mile

Oh, the past is a long distance runner
And I'm falling further and further behind
Yeah, the past is a long distance runner
Going round in my mind, mind, mind
Round in my mind Miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles I need some music
I need some sleep
I need a lover
Somebody to move me
Takes me forever
And ever to see
The good in the people
Who see the good in me

Oh, the past is a long distance runner
And I'm falling further and further behind
Yeah, the past is a long distance runner
Going round in my mind, mind, mind
Round in my mind Miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles Miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles And I hear the gun go off
Thunder crack

And my head says go
Don't ever look back The past is a long distance runner
And I'm falling further and further behind
Yeah, the past is a long distance runner
Going round in my mind, mind, mind

Round in my mind Miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles Miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles looking for love
Keep on going miles
