

The Alarm

Vanna

A hard fall
on a rough path
her body her betrayer
she spoke as she fought back to lose is to lose
but i'll never die for you and now i'm saved with the flare, the spark, the alarm i am willing this i'm not alone in this fight you've made a curse of it there's no excuse for the trite not one would they believe
the things we've done
this gives my sleepless nights a reason to be home
they're crying out
as they make their way down in the midst of all this drowning what will come of us
swing now hard
the reveille sounds
was it worth it
they set the fire
with eyes so wide
a sudden sense of comfort washed over them at once
they're crying out
in the midst of it
what became
swing now hard
with eyes so wide
love is all there was
