I Can't Be Mad

Nathan Sykes

The bigger picture
I'll be with ya, many years from now
So go your own way, do your own thing
I don't see it working outGave permission, to take the easy way out
Bad decision, 'cause I'm here missing you nowBut I can't be mad
For loving you that way
I can't be mad
I gave you my heart to break
Can drown in sorrow, try to numb the pain
But I can't be mad, because I'm the one to blameSeeing pictures, and I ain't with ya
No longer you and I
You don't hurt like you should, and it seems you're all good
Honestly I don't know why
I gave permission, to take the easy way out
Bad decision, but I won't scream and shout, baby!I can't be mad
For loving you that way
I can't be mad
I gave you my heart to break
Can drown in sorrow, try to numb the pain
But I can't be mad because I'm the one to blameOh its like broken pieces are left on a shelf
While you're looking happy, I'm going through hell
It's not the way that I thought it would be
But you'll come back to meAnd I won't be mad
For loving you that way
I can't be mad
I gave you my heart to break
I can't be mad
For loving you that way
I can't be mad
I gave you my heart to break
Can drown in sorrow try to numb the pain
But I can't be mad, because I'm the one to blame
But I can't be mad 'cause I let you slip, away