The Way I Feel

12 Stones

Lately I've been wandering Off the narrow path You've given me so many things That I've never hadAll in all I know it's you That always pulls me through If you reach deep inside You'll see my heart is true'Cause I hate the way I feel tonight And I know I need you in my life Yes, I hate the way I feel inside And I promise to make the sacrifice, yeah Come on The world I know is pulling me More and more each day I feel like the odd man out As I begin to praySpiteful eyes are watching me With everything I do In the midst of darkness, Lord My spirit calls for you'Cause I hate the way I feel tonight And I know I need you in my life Yes, I hate the way I feel inside And I promise to make the sacrifice, yeah(You know sometimes deep inside) I feel like this 'Cause I hate the way I feel tonight And I know I need you in my life Yes, I hate the way I feel inside And I promise to make the sacrificeYes, I hate the way I feel tonight And I know I need you in my life, yeah The way I feel like the way, the way I feel Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
