

Everyday

Jill Phillips

A night full of stars and the moon on water
Reflects perfectly clear
We walk to the car, turn on secret garden
And roll down the windows to hear
Down to the shore where the tide is rising
Feel it run over our feet
We start to move and I'm realizing
Now I am living a dream I can't believe, can't believe that we're here
But I won't complain, won't complain
'Cause I could go on for a million more years
If we danced like this every day
I open my eyes as the song is fading
I wish that it had no end
But the pulse of the tide keeps our bodies swaying
Dancing to music within I can't believe, can't believe that we're here
But I won't complain, won't complain
'Cause I could go on for a million more years
If we danced like this every day
I can't believe, can't believe that we're here
But I won't complain, won't complain
'Cause I could go on for a million more years
If we danced like this every day
'Cause I could go on for a million more years
If we danced like this every day
