My Interpretation

MIKA

You talk about life and talk about death and everything in between

Like it's nothing and the words are easy

You talk about me and talk about you and everything I do

Like it's something that needs repeatingI don't need an alibi or for you to realize

The things we left unsaid are only taking space up in our heads

Make it my fault, win the game, point the finger, place the blame

And curse me up and down, it doesn't matter now'Cause I don't care if I ever talk to you again

This is not about emotion, I don't need a reason not to care

What you say or what happened in the end
This is my interpretation and it don't, don't make sense
The first two weeks turn into ten, I hold my breath and wonder
When it'll happen, does it really matter?

If half of what you said is true and half of what I didn't do Could be different, would it make it better? If we forget the things we know would we have somewhere to go?

The only way is down, I can see that now'Cause I don't care if I ever talk to you again
This is not about emotion, I don't need a reason not to care
What you say or what happened in the end
This is my interpretation and it don't, don't make senseIt's really not such a sacrifice
If I never talk to you again

This is not about emotion, I don't need a reason not to care

What you say or what happened in the end

This is my interpretation and it don't, don't make senseAnd it don't have to make no sense to you at all

'Cause this is my interpretation, yeah, yeah, yeah Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.
