 Long goodbye yeah
 Long goodbyeWhen the flowers were blooming, I didn't know
 But now I long for spring, I wait for it
 All of your marks that are deeply engraved in me
 I can't erase them so even the pain is still so clear
 When I was endlessly wandering
 I didn't know back thenOh goodbye, long goodbye
 The more I love you, the more it hurts
 This longing has grown even thicker
 It endlessly tortures me
 I try emptying you out
 But this break up is too hard, I'm afraidIn case my pain is noticed, I smoothed out my heart
 I hope I can erase the memories and forget you
 I don't know why I treated you so bad
 All of those times are still so cruelly clearWhen I was endlessly wandering
 I didn't know back then
 Now I'm afraidOh goodbye, long goodbye
 The more I love you, the more it hurts
 This longing has grown even thicker
 It endlessly tortures meFrom the times you stayed with me
 That scent still remains
 This love has deeply settled inside me(Whoa whoa)
 The flower is witheringOh goodbye, long goodbye
 It keeps hurting
 I have no choice but to let you go
 You coldly left me
 This longing has grown even thicker
 Even if it endlessly tortures meLong goodbye oh
 Long goodbye yeah
 Long goodbye
