

Wintersun

Brendan Perry

Can't stop the hurt, can't stop the bleeding
I am invisible
Can't stop the thought, nor the feeling
I don't exist at all But when you call my name
Do you feel the same way?
That we're trapped in time
We're both living a lie I live in a tower of my own creation
I'm indivisible
From the thoughts that make up all my memories
Transcendental But when you call my name
Do you feel the same way?
That we're trapped in time
We're both living a lie
Many days have come and gone
Since the day I was born
And the autumn of life has finally come
With the promise of winter thaw
