

One in a Million

Backstreet Boys

AJ: Ooh, oh, oh
She wakes up with the sun (The sun)
She throws on her clothes (Her clothes)
Hoping her car will start
The second time around
The day has begun (Begun)
The lines out the door (The door)
Serving up fraps
Until she can't take anymore I see it in her broken smile
Oh, I wish I could tell her All: You're one in a million
You're going the distance, babe
You're gonna work it out someday
I wish I could tell her
You're one in a million
But you never even look my way
Howie: No, she never looks my way
She never, never, ever looks my way Nick: She ties up her hair (Her hair)
Her makeup is smeared (Is smeared)
Wiping the tears that she wants no one to see
She screams on the pain
I hear every word
Why don't you know how beautiful you are Just see it in my broken smile
Oh, I wish I could tell her All: You're one in a million
You're going the distance, babe
You're gonna work it out someday
I wish I could tell her
You're one in a million
But you never even look my way
Brian: If I could be the light
To guide you through
The darkness baby
If I could be the one
To change the ending to your story I'd be one in a million, yeah
I'd be one in a million Howie: Someday I will tell her
You're gonna work it out someday All: You're one in a million
You're going the distance, babe
You're gonna work it out someday
I wish I could tell her
You're one in a million
But you never even look my way You're one in a million
You're going the distance, babe
You're gonna work it out someday

I wish I could tell her
You're one in a million
But you never even look my way
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>