

Tell You (feat. Dia Frampton)

Bryan Lanning

Just turned 16
Headstrong
Taking on the world alone Hoping for a good girl
To come along
Turn this dirt into a throne But I'm stumbling for words to say to you And I wish I could tell you
Every little thing
My fears, my hopes, my insecurities And I wish I could show you
The broken pieces of my heart
That underneath, I'm not that strong
But I can't
Cause I'm so scared (so scared)
And I'm so lost (lost)
I just wish I could
I just wish I could
I wish I could tell you Just shy of 17
Guarded
Falling through the world alone Bounced into a big boy
Open hearted
Wanna give him a home But I'm stumbling for words to say to him And I wish I could tell you
Every little thing
My fears, my hopes, my insecurities
And I wish I could show you
The broken pieces of my heart
That underneath, I'm not that strong
But I can't Cause I'm so scared (so scared)
And I'm so lost (lost)
I just wish I could
I just wish I could
I wish I could tell you Stumbling for words
Searching for heart
Trying to stand tall
Wanting to have it all Hoping for grace
Planning for time
Running away from home
Running into your arms Now I can tell you
Every little thing
My fears, my hopes, my insecurities
Now I can show you
The broken pieces of my heart
And over time it becomes strong
And I'm no longer
So scared

Or so lost
And now that I can
Now that I can
Now I can tell you
Now that I can
Now that I can
Now I can tell you Just turned 16
Headstrong
Taking on the world alone
