

Only You

Hawk Nelson

I've traveled the world
Seen its diamonds and pearls and it's not
(it's not enough)
I've watched the night sky fill with glorious light and it's not
(it's not enough)
I could search down here for the rest of my life
And this one thing is all that I'd find
That only You can fill my heart the way You do
Only You can take what's worn and make it new
So I'll take all these broken dreams and petty things
Replace them with something that's true
I'll take 'em replace them with You
I've locked every part of this wandering heart and it's not
(it's not enough)
I've fallen in love just to find out it's never enough
Woah
So I'll set my eyes on the one thing I know
Let this horizon lead me back home
'Cause only You can fill my heart the way You do
Only You can take what's worn and make it new
So I'll take all these broken dreams and petty things
Replae them with something's that's true
I'll take them replace them with you
Oh oh oh
So please
Jesus would You come close
Jesus would You come close
Jesus would You come close
Stay right here
I need You more than I know
Need You more than I know
So Jesus would You come close
