

Someday (Place In the Sun) [feat. Ella Eyre]

Tinie Tempah

They never have time to give you
They're always on the run
But you keep on looking for your place in the sun
When the lights go out in London
Work has just begun
Someday you will find a place in the sun
Hey... Hey
Find a place in the sun
Yeah... Yeah
Find a place in the sun
Back to the beginning, in fact, no going in It's 'Bac's' that I'm driven in Plaques in my living room
The stats match the facts man
I'm back back back back
Momma, look we made it out them flats we was living in Times I nearly thought I would collapse living in Britain
Smiling in pictures
Flying into fixtures
Never in denial cause the Nile is a river
Rappers on the sly tryna eye my elixir
Jealousy's a crime bet your pride won't resist ya
To get to where I am I cried like I was injured
Bled like a soldier perspired like a sprinter
Brother said T keep an eye out from them rinsers
People that you hang with are trying to lynch ya
Never break down I'll be there to lift ya
You perfect how you was
So why are you trying to fix ya
Now, they never have time to give you
They're always on their own
But you keep on looking for a place in the sun
When the lights go out in London
Work has just begun
Someday you will find a place in the sun
Away from the pain and the sadness,
Soon the whole world is gonna understand my language
Everybody's trying to find a method to the madness
Woah! Take it on because I did it single handed
What ever will be will be even if you plan it
On the roll to success feeling like I'm stranded
Disturbing London hoe I'll speak no other language
Started with a goal then I ended with a hat-trick
Selling out arenas think its time to do a new tour
Pennies for the thoughts that I'm about to give you food for

Never show emotion even on a mood board
Sold my bandwagon and I went and bought a two door
Dizzie made me rapper writer made me get my groove on
I just want to hit opinion views and do a tune Sean
Thinking about life listening to Too Short.
One day they'll have a statue with me in Madame Tussaud
Now, they never have time to give you

They're always on their own
But you keep on looking for a place in the sun
When the lights go out in London
Work has just begun
Someday you will find a place in the sun
For that spot I'ma use Cruella Deville power
Or do a Willow and Jaden and use my Will power
Victory is the sweetest defeat is real sour
Together we can move mountains rebuild towers
A lot of hurt still waiting for God to heal ours
Stand up and rebel again the real cowards
Hey... Hey
Find a place in the sun
Yeah
Now, they never have time to give you
They're always on their own
But you keep on looking for a place in the sun
When the lights go out in London
Work has just begun
Someday you will find a place in the sun

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>