

Break of the Avalanche

Kashmir

Break of the avalanche
I got a lot on my mind and blood on my hands Still terrified
?? you wist for men
So I shivver for you you troumble for me
I step on your shooes
I trip on your heels
But the arcangels curse for the sins I have shoved away Let him trumpet and roar because I can't make it go away Yes tomorrow lies dark with what will become of us Still don't know you stand You're a watery clown with a thundering eve Straight path through a crowd with a millions deceived So if time is on your side and love is on your mind I wont be too hard to find In the ludicris lights at the break of the avalanche at the end of the night there's where you find me There's so much we don't know so much I don't need to know
?Still when tears to my back
