Caught Between

Screaming Trees

When you walked into the room Never seen your face before On the ground with all that crawls

To your head before the dawnNow I'm caught between and tired of all this pain Holds you under but the shadows still remainVoices tap you from behind

Did one say that I was wrong Go ahead and blind yourself

The feeling never will be goneNow I'm caught between and tired of all this pain Holds you under but the shadows still remain

Time has taken me down from my pedestalThen you walked into the room

Never seen your face before Close my eyes to see the sky

Won't follow you there anymore

Now I'm caught between and tired of all this pain

Holds you under but the shadows still remain

Time has taken me down

It's taken me down, way down there

You know that it's taken me

Oh, I said Lord don't take me

And now it's taken me down

Down by the ground now

Woah, yeah
