

Minimal Affection

The Vaccines

In a world of minimal affection
Can you give yourself in a word
To a girl with a washed-out complexion
She's a mutual friend of mine Anyone, anyone, anyone, anyone, anyone?
Is there anyone there?
You forget how to make a connection
And you've wanted one for so long Moving on
You don't have a lot in common
When the world
If you don't even know my name
What a life if not for affection
Felt invisible, took too hard
[?] distraction
Is if everyone went away
Anyone, anyone, anyone, anyone, anyone?
Is there anyone there?
Fall back and into the quiet
Where I've wanted you for so long Moving on
You don't have a lot in common
When the world
If you don't even know my name How am I supposed to hear you calling
If I can't hear a word you say?
How am I supposed to hear you calling
If I can't hear a word you say?
Moving on
You don't have a lot in common
When the world
If you don't even know my name How am I supposed to hear you calling
If I can't hear a word you say?
How am I supposed to hear you calling
If I can't hear a word you say?
