

Imagination

Laura Branigan

He says that he can read my mind, the power to turn iron into gold She says she's seen the other side And knows the place the fire burns all night There is an answer to the question, so long ago down below
It's a hard real life, every day Once you have it, it never goes away CORO:
It's in the pocket,
when you're really, really lucky
when your fantasy
becomes reality,
living inside your imagination
It's in the pocket,
when you're really, really lucky
when your fantasy
becomes reality,
living inside your imagination
Your magic of the secret door, I can take you down and show you more It's easy, once you know the way, it's farther than the closest thing you are You've got to walk right through that fire, it will not burn you
and the once you may love, only life, won't make it or just burn away CORO: It's in the pocket, when you're really, really lucky
when your fantasy
becomes reality,
living inside your imagination
It's in the pocket,
when you're really, really lucky
when your fantasy
becomes reality,
living inside your imagination
You've got to walk right through that fire,
it will not burn you
and the once you may love,
only life, won't make it or just burn away
Imagination,
Imagination,
Imagination.
