One In a Million

Pet Shop Boys

Why this uncertainty? It's not clear to me Would you rather be independent? Have I lost your love? Have you had enough? Do you feel too much resentment? How can I make you see when you disagree that you just can't leave? One in a million men could change the way you feel One in a million men Baby it's up to me I won't stand in your way I can't make you stay though of course I'll feel rejected You're a part of me You're the family I can't bear to leaveOne in a million men could change the way you feel One in a million men Baby it's up to meFeel free to leave if you think you're trapped But please believe I'll always want you back One in a million men could change the way you feel One in a million men Baby it's up to me Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.
