

At Sea

Islands

Ah, ah, ah, ah
Ooh, ooh, oohGone, don't know for how long
When I will see you next, I cannot say
No bed in your darkness
Amongst your song, I shall remainTo light, to light the way in Towards jubilation, you will know the way
Devotion, left with just devotion
I will always keep you there
Pushed off into that ocean
I feel the stillness hanging in the airThe raw and steady metal
Guided through trouble, rolls through the way
The way that this ship moves
Bound for deep water, it's bound to break
Will you, will you remember
How I loved you?
Oh, how I know now
Now I know how this water got so blueLove, how I long to hear you
To lay down near you, back by your side
