

Autopilot

Kodaline

I'm trying to connect with you,
To see the world the way you do
Try understand what's in your head
I'm hearing what you said 'Cause I wanted to say
When I see you this way
Don't ever let it break your heart
I'll go back to the start
I'll watch it fall apart Feels like an empty space
You don't enjoy the taste
I just need a place to hide
Somewhere to make you right
If this isn't what you want
Head back to your own haunt
And you'll find the missing piece
Not just a big relief
Maybe you lost control
Fallen into a hole
The way that it was before
Is all that you looking for
You just need to take a step back This autopilot kicking in You're feeling like you'll never win
Hey, maybe I can help you out
Don't fall into your doubts
I hear you screaming out Feels like an empty space
You don't enjoy the taste
I just need a place to hide
Somewhere to make you right
If this isn't what you want
Head back to your own haunt
And you'll find the missing piece
Not just a big relief
Maybe you lost control
Fallen into a hole
The way that it was before
It's all that you're looking for
A lover is all you need
Someone that you can read
Day in and day out
Guess this one is all about, oh Somebody you need
Somebody you need
Somebody you need
Somebody you need It feels like an empty space

You don't enjoy the taste
I just need a place to hide
Somewhere to make it right
If this isn't what you want
Head back to your own haunt
And you'll find the missing piece
Somebody that you need Somebody you need
Somebody you need (Not just a big relief)
Somebody you need
Somebody you need
Somebody you need
Somebody you need
