Road Blaster

I was driving at the dawn But everywhere I go, everywhere I go I see you Calling love to the land Cause anything I do, anything I do Is about you I was searching at the speed of sound And I go up and down until I hit the ground I need someone I was falling through the universe I went forward and reverse To forget about you Now you get me Just another soul to break Evil is God and I'm going straight to Hell Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
