

Frightened (Album Version)

Toby Lightman

Viewing lights under the surface and knowing I've found
Can't run away from, can't make it undone
While reaching out for anything, screaming without a sound
How did I find you?
How was I supposed to try? I'm frightened by the love that's in you...
But it's alright...
And I'm frightened by the love that's in me...
But I know it's alright... it's alright...
The only one who understands, the only one who gave me
Something to belong to, nothing left to undo
With you everything is beautiful and I'm not scared to be
Falling into unknown.
With you, I find the strength to carry on I'm frightened by the love that's in you...
But it's alright...
And I'm frightened by the love that's in me...
But I know it's alright... it's alright...
I'm frightened by the love that's in you...
But it's alright...
Oh... and I... I'm frightened by the love that's in me...
But I know it's alright... it's alright... (frightened by the love that's in you)
It's alright... it's alright... (I'm frightened by the love that's in me)
It's alright...
