

Opening Title

Stephen Sondheim

Antony: I have sailed the world
 beheld its wonders
 from the dardineels,
 to the mountains of Peru,
But there's no place like London!
 I feel home again...
 I could hear the city bells ring...
 Whatever would I do?
No there's... Sweeney Todd: No place like London... Antony (spoken) Mr. Todd
 You are young...
 Life has been kind to you...
 You will learn.
There's a hole in the world like a deep dark pit and the vermin of the world inhabit it its moral's aren't worth what
THE REST OF THE SONG LATER SORRY

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>