

Cumin

The Acorn

I been trading precious stones
for your safe haven.
The more and more that I shoulder, let it come.
It makes the feast much richer.
All in all, you're open;
so I let it go.
Cuz I been hard, and I been patient.
On your shores,
there's something ancient.
I recognize your accent,
I anchor to your drawl:
Petra or Gaza?
And I let it go.
Holding
holding holding on...
I always been your rhythm:
a ragged pulse
to your electric slide.
The more and more that I follow,
the more I let it go.
let it go...

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>