

My Boy

Phillip Phillips

Everything will be okay, my boy, my boy
Everything will be better now, my boy, my boy Tell me your secret and say it loud
Let time stand still for just a while, just a while It's hard to say what's in your heart
The truth can break it all apart, all apart You can take it, time will make it clear, it's clear
And you can take it, the change you're making is here, it's here Everything will be okay, my boy, my boy Everything will be better now, my boy, my boy So tell me now what you need standing there in front of me
So tell me can you see the one you want is the one you believe, you believe You can take it, time will make it clear, it's clear And you can take it, the change you're making is here, it's here
Everything will be okay, my boy, my boy
Everything will be better now, my boy
