

Never Too Old (To Hold Somebody)

Elton John & Leon Russell

Don't abandon the light
Don't step away
Don't give up that tune
That you never could play
If you're folding your tent
And the gas pipes groan
If every bone rattles
Through nights all alone
Well, you're tougher than leather
No old burlap sack
Not some hard scrabble weed
Growing up through the cracks
Don't you know you're never too old?
Never too old to hold somebody
Don't you know you're never too old?
Never too old to hold somebody
You're never too old to hold somebody
Don't think you've gone out
Don't flicker and fade
If you're gonna get lemons
Then you do what they say
The wind makes you weary
Oh, it knocks you around
Logs on the fire
Beats sun shining down
But you're harder than nails
No skinny old tack
You're still sharp as a razor
And I like you like that
Don't you know you're never too old?
You're never too old to hold somebody
Don't you know you're never too old?
You're never too old to hold somebody
You're never too old to hold somebody
I could bet on a horse
But I'm betting on you
You still got what it takes
You got nothing, nothing to prove
You're never too old
Never too old to hold somebody
Don't you know you're never too old?
Never too old to hold somebody
Oh, you're never too old to hold somebody
Mmm, mmm, somebody
Mmm, mmm
Mmm, somebody

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://counterlikes.com/>

